Dear Hardworking Friend,

Have you ever felt like you work and work and never get anywhere?

Have you ever felt like every penny you have is slowly squeezed from you?

Has it ever seemed like there's a conspiracy out there to keep you from being successful and wealthy?

Well, it should be no surprise -- it's true!

Someone once said that you can steal more money with a suit and a briefcase than you can with a mask and gun. Banks, businesses, lawyers and the IRS are proving it today, and it's completely legal!

The Cards Are Stacked Against You

The world of business today is set up to grind away at what you have and what you make. Like an army of ants carrying crumbs from a picnic table, your money

'I'm having a ball with your CXS system. Last year I started with $300 invested... currently my portfolio is around $1,600. I gets eaten up in bills, fees, insurance, taxes and a million other big and small charges that carefully and completely separate you from your money.

Take credit cards. The average American owes about $8,500 on credit cards. At 22% interest and making minimum payments, it will take over 24 years and $12,000 in interest to pay it off!

choose CXS because of your common sense straightforward approach to investing. Being an accountant, I understand financials, however, I don't have the time to research every stock I come across. You have done that for me.'

- A.L., PSF Reader

Why do they set it up this way? So you'll never get out of debt! It's a very crafty form of modern day slavery!

And that's not to mention all those mysterious 'fees' that seem to pump up your phone bill, utility bill and every other bill that comes. And late fees, service fees, sales taxes and a million other 'little' charges that eat up your money.

It's a constant, steady grind that's designed to eat up your money and line other people's pockets with it. It's no wonder that the rich get richer, and everyone else treads water or sinks.

Well, if you're sick of it, I'm going to tell you what you can do about it.

Today I'm going to tell you a story about a man from a poor family who figured out the secret to getting rich starting with almost nothing. I'll explain how he did it and how I used that method to crack the 'code of the rich' -- the system of investing that creates the most money the fastest.

And I'll show you how to use that system to create real wealth yourself. Starting with very little money.

I call it the CXS Money Multiplier System.

It's a 10-step system that automatically sifts through the thousands of stocks that trade on the exchanges and narrows them down to just a handful of candidates for top profits.

From these I dig and dig and select only the best -- the cheapest stocks that are likely to shoot up the fastest.

And the fast profits my CXS Money Multiplier System can generate are simply remarkable. Just listen to what one of my readers wrote me recently:

'I subscribed to your service a short time ago and subsequently purchased OMM, CDE, CYD and SVM on your advice. Imagine my delight at realizing (potential) gains of 15.6%, 124%, 149% and 10% respectively.'

- D.L., PSF Subscriber

When you can make money that fast, you can build a small amount of money into real wealth. The rich know this, and they do it all the time. I'm going to show you how this works, and tell you the secrets behind my CXS Money Multiplier System in a minute.

But first let me tell you how I figured out where the money really is...

How I Cracked the 'Code of the Rich' -- The Secret Ways the Super-Rich Make Fast, Fast Money

I've always loved numbers and math. Even as a kid I could do math in my head that other kids couldn't even do on paper. I'm probably one of the only kids who loved doing math homework. Fractions, algebra, geometry, trigonometry -- I ate it up.

By the time I got to college, I was studying stuff only the computer geeks and engineers were studying. Stuff like statistical analysis. Most people can't even stay awake in those classes, let alone understand what's going on in them and how to apply them to real life. But I loved it all.

And this fascination with math was probably the reason I was also always fascinated by investing and the returns on money. It seemed like magic to me.

No surprise, as soon as I was out of school I went into the investing field. I could have been an engineer or a computer geek -- but I was just fascinated by money. And investing. So I guess I was destined for this career.

But there was something that really intrigued me from the start...

Early on in my career I heard a story about a legendary investor who came from a simple a background, and one bold move launched an investing career for him that was one of the most successful in history.

I came back to this story over and over -- and similar ones -- determined to dig the secret of success from it. In fact, I went back to that story and studied it backwards and forwards time after time.

I have extracted the secrets from it. And added a few others too. But before I tell you all that, let me tell you the story and see if you can figure out why I was so determined to mine the gold from it.

One Bold Move Launches One of the Most Successful Investors in History

The year was 1939.

After several attempts at a comeback, the Dow Jones was still down 66% from its high in 1929. Most investors had given up the idea of making any money on the stock market.

Investors were scared. And rightly so. People had lost everything in the big stock market crash. The stories of people jumping out windows on Wall Street were true.

But not one investor. In a decision that was fated for investment history -- the investor 'hall of fame' -- this fellow borrowed $10,000 from his boss with one goal in mind: to buy 100 shares of EVERY single small-cap stock on the major exchanges selling for under $1.

Now, this chap certainly wasn't among the rich and famous already. He came from a small town in Tennessee, and his father was a farmer. But in school he was fascinated with how money could grow, and he spent hours playing with compound interest tables. In fact, he never lost his fascination with the power of compound interest.

His plan to buy all these small stocks was a risky plan. Without a doubt, some of the companies he bought were on the verge of bankruptcy. And he didn't care if the fundamentals were poor. He bought following a hunch that when the markets rally, the small-cap stocks would lead the way. And as history reveals, he was right.

In Four Years, During Some of the Toughest Market Conditions of the 20th Century, This Fellow Turned $10,000 Into Over $40,000

That investor's name was John Templeton, and that bold move launched his career. He became a very successful investor, launched his own mutual fund, and later his own mutual fund organization, which he eventually sold for over $400 million.

He went on to join the super-rich of the world, and now lives -- and still makes money -- from his mansion in the Bahamas.

The Real Secret Is Hidden

It's a great story about how someone can start a brilliant career -- and start building riches -- with one bold move. But I knew there was more to it than just buying a bunch of cheap stocks. And I was right.

I studied that story over and over...how he had done it...what was it he knew and understood...and how was it that one group of stocks grew so fast. It was one of those things that sounds simple -- but there's more to it than meets the eye.

The more research I did, the more I began to understand. And I discovered he wasn't the only one who operated on certain principles. His was just one of the more

How to Crack the Secret Code of the Super-Rich

James Boric was always been fascinated by the magic of numbers and investing. He studied John Templeton's story over and over, and discovered the secrets it contained. It's one of the OLDEST SECRETS OF WEALTH IN THE WORLD.

What's even better is that in today's market you can use this secret with even greater power. It's all explained in a special report, The Code of the Rich . In this report you'll discover how James has combined the secrets of John Templeton's success with the speed and power of modern financial markets to create the MOST POWERFUL SYSTEM OF WEALTH ACCUMULATION EVER DEvised.

Take Warren Buffett. Even though his family had money, he figured out very early how to make his own. When he was only 6 years old, he bought six-packs of Coca-Cola from the grocery store for 25 cents, and then resold each of the bottles for a nickel, making a 5 cent profit.

At 11 years old, he purchased three shares of Cities Service Preferred stock. The stock dropped in price but he held on, and sold at over a 30% profit. But then he watched as it went up to over 5 times what he paid. He would rarely make that mistake again.

By the time he finished high school, he'd already made $5,000 delivering newspapers. He didn't even want to go to college -- he thought it was a waste of time. But his father pushed him and he did. Then, when he seriously got down to investing, he quickly became one of the most famous investors in the world.

In six short years Buffett built up his capital from $9,800 to $140,000. Over the next five years, he multiplied the money more than 5 times over. And he was still just getting going. Within 10 years he was worth almost $7 million. By the late '70s, Buffett's personal wealth was almost $140 million. By 1989, Buffett was worth more than $3.8 billion dollars. And in the next 10 years he'd multiply that 10 times over.

Other famous people weren't rich when they started, either. John D. Rockefeller wasn't rich when he started. And neither was Sam Walton, Andrew Carnegie or Bill Gates. Plus, there are many other rags-to-riches stories you've never even heard about.

So it is absolutely true that you don't have to have a lot of money to make a lot of money. But there aren't many ways to do it, unless you happen to start a very successful business. And most businesses fail in the first couple of years. You may have even found that out yourself.

No, there's only one way I know of that's very easy and takes very little money. It's a secret very few have discovered.

And the heart of this secret is knowing that there are only certain kinds of stocks that are likely to give you huge returns...

Buying the Right Stock Can Give You 20 Times the Profit Potential

The first thing to understand is how much more money certain stocks can make for you.

Just look at the difference in how much you can make on an investment of $1,000. Let's say you have a choice of two different stocks -- one 'big-cap' stock like IBM and one penny stock. With $1,000, you can either buy 10 shares of a $100 stock, or 200 shares of a $5 stock.

Now, if each of the stocks goes up just $5 a share, look what happens...

Since you could only buy 10 shares of the $100 stock, your profit would be a measly $50.

But since you could buy 200

This Billionaire Also Started With Nothing...

The most famous investor of them all -- Warren Buffett -- started with nothing also. His family did have some money, but he made his on his own. From selling six packs of soda for a nickel profit, to making a 30% profit off the first stock he bought at 11, to building his own investment capital selling newspapers. He started investing seriously while still in his teens and quickly amassed $140,000.

Then he really got going. Over the years, using the secrets of buying low and compounding his returns, Buffett became one of the richest people in the shares of the $5 stock, your profit would be a whopping $1,000. And you would have doubled your money.

That's 20 times the profits from the $5 stock.

Now, imagine if you employ this principle with every investment you make. Over a few short years, you're talking about a vast, vast difference in your results.

Over 75 Years of Proof

This edge has been proven historically. Going back to 1926, small-cap stocks (often known as penny stocks) have beaten bigger stocks year after year after year. In fact, a small $1,000 investment in a basket of small-cap stocks in 1926 would have been worth over $3.9 million in 2000. That same $1,000 invested in a basket of large-cap stocks would have been worth $1.7 million! And if you take small-cap stocks that are good values, they beat the other stocks by an even wider margin.

world. If you had invested $100 in his company, Berkshire Hathaway, just over 35 years ago, you would have about $220,000 today.

This is the power of buying low and compounding your investments. It's the secret code of the super-rich, and it's the only way the average person can take a modest amount of money and turn it into real money. Read on to learn how you can step into the world of the super-rich.

Now, when you combine those gains with the secret of compounding your returns -- reinvesting those gains year after year -- you get the secret of the super-rich...how to make money grow the fastest.

Unfortunately, most investors concentrate on big, popular stocks. That's fine for the super-rich. If you've got millions of dollars to invest, you'll make great money from small returns.

But it won't do a thing for the little guy who wants to join the party. You just can't make enough money to get ahead from these stocks...

Big Stocks Are 'Slow Boats'

Most investors like what I call the 'slow boats' - - supposedly 'safe' blue chip stocks like IBM.

But -- because they're the favorites -- these big stocks are very pricey. Which means two things:

- (1) It takes a lot of money to invest in them...
- (2) They have to make huge moves for you to make any money...

Take IBM for example. In the last five years IBM went from the low $60s to the low $80s. To have bought 100 shares you'd have had to invest over $6,000. And five years later you'd have a little over $8,000. Yeah, you'd have made money. But it would be a 'slow boat' trying to get rich like that.

No, the secret to building wealth fast can be found only in stocks that move up very far very fast. These are the smallest stocks.

Penny Stocks Can Be 'Rocket Rides'

Let me show you how fast these wealth-building penny stocks can move...and I'm finding them time and time again. Here's an example of a stock my CXS Money Multiplier System identified as a screaming 'buy!'

SIRIUS Satellite Radio Inc. is one of the only two satellite radio companies in the United States. In other words, they're just about the only game in town.

Satellite radio has taken off faster than ANY other consumer radio audio product in the past 20 years. That includes the launch of the CD player and the DVD player. Seventy-five percent of the U.S. population 12 and older listens to the radio on a daily basis. Ninety-five percent of the population listens to AM/FM radio at least weekly. And at least 112 million Americans don't live near cities like New York or Chicago. That means they have very limited access to music that fits their style.

When I looked at the potential market, it penciled out to $4.7 billion. At the time, the market worth of Sirius and XM Radio (the other satellite radio company) combined was only $1.4 billion. That meant there was at least a 335% growth opportunity for early investors.

The bottom line was simple. Satellite radio gives listeners the choice to listen to anything they want. And the market for satellite radio won't be contained to people living outside major cities. Rather, anyone who listens to free radio is a target subscriber.

And that's 95% of the American population age 12 and over.

It was an easy call. And SIRIUS paid off like a home run -- returning 233% profits in just two months and one day. A $1,000 investment turned into $3,330 in no time flat!

Returns like that will make you very rich in a very, very short period of time. Shoot, if you tripled your money that quickly on every investment, you'd turn $500 into over $1 million in just 14 months!

These 'rocket ship' stocks are the ones that really propel you from the little leagues into the big leagues. If you catch just a few of them over a few years, you'll make a fortune.

And there's almost nowhere else in the world you can get price movement like this. Can you imagine IBM having a year like that? It would have to go from $80 to $360 in one year. Not very likely in one year -- or even one decade for that matter.

No, it's only in small-cap stocks that you can get movement like this. (And my CXS Money Multiplier System identifies highfliers like these all the time.)

These are also stocks that are most likely to duplicate the success of the most famous wealth-builders of all time -- stocks you could have bought for chump change at one time that made millionaires out of savvy investors...

This is the OLDEST SECRET OF WEALTH in the world -- updated for use with today's powerful electronic markets. You now have a speed and power that the richest of the rich investors of past years never had. When you combine the power of this electronic money machine with a system for picking the best stocks, and you take fast, consistent profits and reinvest them over and over again, you've got the greatest source of building wealth ever known -- the CXS Money Multiplier System.

$500 Turned Into $70,000

Take Wal-Mart -- the little store that Sam Walton started in Rogers, Ark. Wal-Mart first traded stock in 1970 and by 1971 had their first 100% stock split. It's now an international store with over $100 billion dollars in sales a year.

In all, adjusted for splits, the stock soared over 140 times. If you had invested just $500 in Wal-Mart at the beginning, it would have turned into over $70,000!

$500 Turns Into $50,000

Or take Dell Computer Corporation -- the little computer company Michael Dell founded in 1984. By 1987 Dell was the first computer systems company to offer next-day, on-site product service. In 1988 the company went public, and shares became available for just $8.50 each.

By 1990 Dell was serving European, Middle Eastern and African markets. By 1991 they offered their first notebook computer, and by 1992 Dell was listed in the Fortune 500 'world's largest companies.'

By 1997 Dell had shipped its 10-millionth computer system, and that $8.50 stock had reached $1,000 a share, adjusted for stock splits.

All told, if you had invested just $500 in Dell in 1990, it would have grown to over $50,000 a couple of years ago...

$500 Grows to $55,000

And then there's Microsoft. Founded in 1975 by Paul Allen and Bill Gates, Microsoft is now one of the largest companies in the world. Along the way, it's estimated that Microsoft created over 10,000 millionaires just in employees who held stock -- not to mention outside investors.

Microsoft is another case where a simple $500 investment -- without another penny ever added -- would have grown to over $55,000 by the year 2000.

And there are many, many more examples...

Intel turned a $500 investment into $35,000...Cisco Systems turned $500 into $40,000...Merck turned $500 into $30,000...K-Tel International turned $500 into $3,185 in less than 60 days...Southwest Airlines turned a $500 investment into over $10,900...and Keane Inc. turned a $500 investment into $9,000 in a few months! These are the kinds of the big moneymaking stocks the CXS Money Multiplier System aims to identify for you.

In fact, you can prove that the little stocks are the biggest moneymakers on almost any given day. In most newspapers you can find a list of the best-performing stocks on Wall Street. And it's not uncommon to find that seven, eight, nine or even all 10 of the best-performing companies on Wall Street on any given day trade for under $10. And most, I find, trade for around $5.

In fact, just this year these stocks went up more than 10 times:

- Integrated BioPharma, up 1,773%...
- NeoRx Corporation, up 1,153%...
- Carrier Access Corporation, up 1,097%...
- TriPath Technology, Inc., up 1,096%
- And OXiGENE Inc., up 1,016%!

Every one of these stocks was selling for less than $2 -- and every one of them would have turned $500 into $5,000 or more. Integrated BioPharma alone would have turned $500 into $8,865 -- this past year alone!

In fact, if I told you the top 50 performing stocks for 2003, you probably wouldn't know the names of more than one or two. (My readers would. They were lucky enough to have heard about XM Satellite Radio Holdings, one of the top 50 -- and identified by my CXS Money Multiplier System.)

But how often do you hear about those companies on your local news...or in The Wall Street Journal ...or from your 'trusted' broker?

NEVER!

They don't want you to share in the wealth. But I can almost guarantee you they are investing in small-cap stocks themselves. They know where the real cash is made. And it's NOT in IBM, Procter & Gamble or even in Microsoft anymore.

It's in stocks like this one...

Over Double Your Money in Just Over Two Months...

This amazing stock scored a 9 out of 10 on the CXS Money Multiplier System -- the highest score for any small-cap stock this year. Its sales and net income grew 97% and 64% respectively last year. And over the past 12 months, it has risen no matter which way the market moved -- up or down.

It's a company called China

'I have just started trading some of your stocks on a web based account for myself and my grandson... We are up about 80.6% in one account and 63.5% in the other account. This looks like a winner as have many of your other recommendations that I have been watching.'

- J.M. PSF Subscriber

Yuchai -- a Bermuda holding company that owns over 75% of the third-largest diesel engine manufacturer in China -- Guangxi Yuchai Machinery Company Limited.

OK, so there's nothing revolutionary or romantic about the diesel engine. But my system identified this as a huge moneymaker, and that was good enough for me.

First of all, China is in the middle stages of changing from an agricultural nation to a fully modern one. That means it is spending billions of dollars building new roads, repairing old ones and manufacturing cars, buses and trucks -- as well as manufacturing the engines that run those vehicles.

Simply stated, China is growing faster than any other large country in the world. There is a tremendous demand for cars, trucks and engines among the rising upper and middle classes. In 2003 alone, sales for Chinese vehicles are projected to grow 20% -- which means a need for 20% more engines.

China Yuchai had sold 76% more units in 2002 versus 2001. Plus, net income grew a healthy 64.4%. Meanwhile, its net sales grew 97%, from $215.5 million to $424.5 million. These are the kind of growth numbers you want to see in a company on the rise.

To cap it off, the company has almost no debt, trades for less than 8 times earnings and over the past year, its stock price has risen in both up and down markets. That's the kind of investment you should have in your portfolio.

No wonder my CXS System practically screamed that this was a winner. And look what happened:

In just two months it roared up 146%! That's a phenomenal rate of return on your money.

And this is exactly why it's so important that you act right now...

Sourpuss or Stock Market Genius?

When Bill Bonner, author of the NY Times # 1 Business Bestseller - Financial Reckoning Day , predicted the dot.com collapse, Money magazine called him a sourpuss, but Worth magazine says he's a genius. He said the 'New Era' was a fraud as early as the autumn of '99, when almost everyone thought it was for real. Six months later, the New Era was history.

Perfectly good stocks got caught in the sell-off and can now be bought for just pennies on the dollar. Over the next couple of years, these stocks are going to skyrocket back up.

This is how the super-rich makes tons of money. They buy these stocks when they're selling for nothing -- and then sell when they've gone up 10 to 20 times in value!

Now, what's a lot of money to you? A hundred grand a year? $500,000 net wealth? $1 million? $2 million?

For the average Joe, there is about a snowball's chance in hell of making this kind of money. That's why I set out to crack the wealth secrets of the super-rich.

With my system, it's absolutely possible to achieve these kinds of goals. No pipe dreams, no pie-in-the-sky, no wait-and-hope. Just a practical way to start with as little as a couple of hundred
