

RUN AWAY to the real never-never land...

And live like royalty for under $600 a month, while your net worth doubles in just a few years

First, try this little mental experiment. Put your doubts aside and ask yourself "what if "...

What if you could simply run away from everything that bothers or bores you...

And escape to a place so blissful, yet so awesomely undervalued - it rivals Hawaii of 40 years ago. (Bear in mind you could have bought a million-dollar property on the Big Island for about $10,000 back then.)

Imagine a picture perfect resort, smack dab in the middle of miles of untouched beachfront, with towering mountains for a backdrop...

With a near-perfect climate, low rate of crime...

And unbelievably paltry prices for everything. Imagine if you could employ your own live-in maid and full-time gardener for dollars a day...rent a beautiful three-bedroom home for $350 a month...

Pay just $240 a year for top-notch health insurance...

This place exists. It's only a short flight from home, in Mexico! And your FREE REPORTS will show you how to reinvent yourself here, multiply your net worth and live like royalty while you're doing it, for well under $600 a month. Think it's a pipe dream? Wrong...

International Living* readers have been doing this for two decades!

Back in the early eighties, we directed our readers to Mexican paradises like Guadalajara, Lake Chapala and San Miguel. Real estate in these Edens has appreciated tenfold since we recommended them...

And it's not too late for you. Because your FREE REPORTS will show you today's most undervalued Mexican "sweet spots." Secret mountain hideaways, beautiful beaches, jungle retreats, whatever you yearn for. Places where you can relax and grow rich, if you want to invest a modest sum in local property, because...

These are wildly appreciating markets. Prices in two of these places have more than doubled in the last few years (during a recession!) and lately the action has been even more intense.

We know of one owner who sold a piece of land for $2,000 AND WAS OFFERED $9,000 THE VERY NEXT DAY

Or maybe you'd rather run further away? Then let us whisk you halfway 'round the world, to a South Sea paradise bursting with grand adventures waiting to happen...

A booming economy, spectacular scenery, 3,500 miles of breathtaking coastline... AND THEY SPEAK ENGLISH

Sound like never-never land? But it exists too! It's a group of islands bigger than England, yet with less than 1/15th of Britain's population. A place so uncrowded, so unspoiled...

And so undiscovered by foreign investors, you can't afford not to consider...

New Zealand. Before you say "no way," stay with me for a moment more.

Because if you love wide-open spaces and outdoor life...or towns and cities where people still say hello when they pass in the streets...or if you'd simply like to reinvent yourself in a red-hot economy... New Zealand is where it's happening. And they're welcoming qualified "runaways" with open arms, because...

In New Zealand there are a dozen sheep for every citizen...

You can do the math if you want to fall asleep tonight. But you'll never have trouble sleeping in New Zealand. Because here you'll find a thousand places to live without a whisper of traffic. The nights are so clear and beautiful, every evening seems like a Kodak moment...

And wherever you roam,
the dreamiest real estate is a fabulous bargain

Consider. In popular Queenstown (considered expensive!), you could buy an attractive 3-bedroom home, with magnificent lake and mountain views, for all of $50,000.

Or maybe you'd like a 2-bedroom home on 3/4 of an acre of waterfront, with boat access...just 25 minutes from the town of Havelocke, near beautiful Hawkes Bay. I just saw one listed for $65,000. Or perhaps you'd prefer to lord it over 100 acres of rolling hills, with a trout stream and trees...

Set amidst vineyards...right near waterfalls, bush reserves, magnificent Te Mata Peak...within easy reach of the beaches.... ALL FOR UNDER $1,570 PER ACRE...

Compared to about $30,000 an acre for equivalent properties in the U.S.!

There's lots of property like this for sale in New Zealand right now. And the living here is also unbeatably cheap. At current exchange rates, your U.S. dollar goes more than twice as far as it does at home.

Yet even though you're living on half the money,
*you're buying the best...

New Zealand's infrastructure compares well to most European countries. Roads, telecommunications, education, airlines, medical care...everything is first-rate.

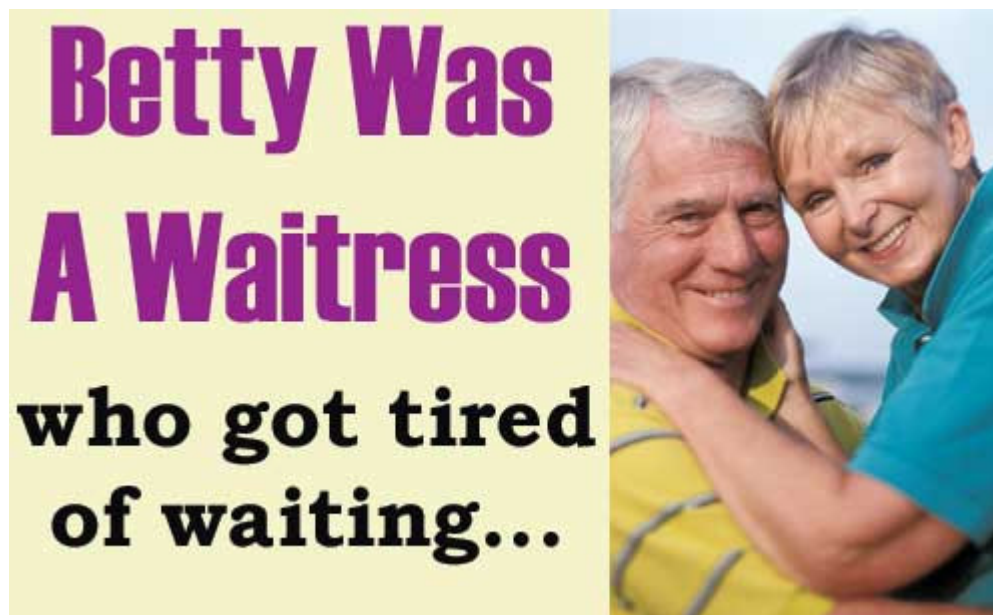

This also means that New Zealand real estate prices are headed up - way up. With the world terror crisis and people searching for a safe haven, we suspect almost anything you buy here will see double-digit appreciation in the next year alone. Best of all, if you live in your New Zealand home...

They won't tax your profits when you sell...

And anyone can buy real estate here. The local banks are anxious to lend money, and often only 5% to 10% is required as a down payment. So what could it hurt to discover the details of how to live this dream?
